What could greater membership involvement mean for your union: better communication, better problem solving, better contracts? Whether you are a union leader or a rank-and-file member, if you want to learn how to grow the strength of your union through increased engagement this class is for you. While the concepts apply to everyone, this class should be of particular interest to public sector workers who are preparing for what comes next with Act 10.

You will learn about:

- Breaking down apathy
- Identifying new activists
- Organizers' tools that every member can use
- Developing a plan for internal organizing
- Activities that increase collective strength

A light breakfast and lunch will be provided.
